

WOODLAND HILLS COUNTRY CLUB ANNOUNCES RECORD TOY DRIVE TO BENEFIT UNDERPRIVILEGED CHILDREN DURING THE HOLIDAYS.

12/21/11

Los Angeles, CA – Woodland Hills Country Club, a private equity golf club located just 20 minutes north of downtown Los Angeles, is proud to announce a record number of donations during the Club’s annual toy drive. Woodland Hills Country Club members, in their annual Couples’ Holiday Toy Tournament, collect toys each year to donate to the local Loaves and Fishes Charity, which then distributes them to underprivileged children at Christmas time. This year’s annual tradition, which collected over 100 toys, was held on Sunday, December 18, with each member and guest bringing an unwrapped toy to contribute to this worthy cause.

“The Club has been doing this toy drive for many years now, and every year the members respond with tremendous generosity,” stated Phil Lopez, General Manager and Chief Operating Officer for WHCC. “Loaves and Fishes is a very worthy charitable organization, aiding needy families and homeless individuals in the San Fernando Valley. WHCC is honored to be a part of making this a memorable Christmas for the children they serve.”

“We are so happy that, once again, the members of Woodland Hills Country Club have donated so many fabulous toys for kids in need,” said Barbara Ausburn, Director of Loaves and Fishes. “Especially during these difficult economic times, we have so many more families in need of help, and it’s wonderful to see a record amount of toys donated by WHCC. We just want to say thank you to the members for their generosity.”

Members of Woodland Hills Country Club participate in other charitable giving, not just the annual toy drive. Each year they raise money for breast cancer research through a Rally for the Cure event. In 2011 alone, the members raised over $13,000 for the Susan G. Komen For the Cure organization to benefit cancer research.

About Woodland Hills Country Club

Located in the West San Fernando Valley, just 20 minutes north of downtown Los Angeles, WHCC was established in 1925 at the height of the “Golden Age” of golf course architecture. Designed by renowned architect William “Billy” Bell, Sr., a traditional golf course where the number of memberships is limited to ensure classic golf at its best. One of the few clubs left with no need for tee-times, quick rounds of golf and a walker friendly environment. WHCC is proud to have hosted USGA qualifying events for the Junior Amateur, Mid-Amateur and Senior Amateur. Known for its classic golf course, friendly membership and quality dining, WHCC is also home to numerous world class musicians who regularly stage incredible musical performances for members and guests.
